When it had gone, Miss Sparrow's gaze relaxed—she had been looking on as eagerly as any child—and she turned to speak to Harkless and discovered that he was no longer in the room. Instead she found Minnie and Mr. Willets, whom he had summoned from another window.

"He was called away," explained Lige. "He thought he'd be back before the parade was over and said you were enjoying it so much he didn't want to speak to you."

"Called away?"

Minnie laughed. "Oh, everybody sends for Mr. Harkless."

"It was a former name of Bowler," added Mr. Willets. "His son Hartley's drinking again, and there ain't any one but Harkless can do anything with him. You let him tackle a sick man to nurse or a tipsy fellow to handle, and I tell you, Mr. Willets went on, with enthusiasm, 'he is at home. It beats me, and lots of people don't think college does a man any good. Why, the way he cured old Flis'—Miss Briscoe interrupted him.

"See!" she cried, pointing out of the window. "Look out there! Something's happened!"

There was a swirl in the crowd below. Men were running around a corner of the courthouse, and the women and children were harking after. They went so fast and there were so many of them that immediately that whole portion of the yard became a pushing, tugging, squirming jam of people.

"It's on the other side," said Lige. "We can see from the hall window. Come quick before these other folks fill it up."

They ran down him across the building and looked down on an agitated swarm of faces. Five men were standing on the entrance steps to the door below them, and the crowd was thickly massed beyond, leaving a little semicircle clear about the steps. Those behind struggled to get closer and leaped in the air to catch a glimpse of what was going on. Harkless stood alone on the top step, his hand resting on the shoulder of the pale and contrite and sobered Hartley. On the lowest step Jim Bardock was standing with sheepishly hanging head and between him and Harkless the two gamblers of the walnut shells. The journalist held in his hand the implements of their profession.

"Yes; give up, every cent," he said quietly. "You've taken $80 from this boy. Hand it over."

The men began to edge down closer to the crowd, giving little, swift, desperate, searching looks from left to right and right to left and moving nervously about like weasels in a trap.

"Close up, there," said Harkless. "Don't let them out!"

"Why can't we get no square treatment here?" one of the gamblers whined. But his eyes blazed with a rage that belied the plaintive passivity of his tone. "We ain't been runnin' no skin. Why d'ye say we gotta give up our own money? You gotta prove it was a skin. We risked our money fair."

"Prove it! Come up here, Eph Watts. Friends"—the editor turned to the crowd, smiling—"friends, here's a man we ran out of town once because he knew too much about things of this sort. He's come back to us again, and he's here to stay. He'll give us an object lesson on the shell game."

"It's pretty simple," remarked Mr. Watts. "The best way is to pick up the ball with your second finger and the back part of your thumb, as you pretend to lay the shell down over it—this way." He illustrated and showed several methods of manipulation with professional sang froid, and as he made plan the vulgar swindle by which many had been duped that morning there arose an angry and threatening murmur.

"You, you, a man elected to"—any spectator. The editor's outstretched hand began to shake. "You," he tried to continue; "you, a man elected to"—

There came from the crowd the sound of a sad, high keyed voice drawing. "That's a nice vest Jim's got on, but it ain't hardly the feathers fitten for an ostrich, is it?"

Harkless broke into a ringing laugh and turned to the shell men. "Give up the boy's money. Hurry!"

"Step down here and git it," said the one who had spoken.

There was a turbulent motion in the crowd, and a cry arose: "Run 'em out! Ride 'em on a rail! Tar and feathers! Run 'em out o' town!"

"I wouldn't dillydally long if I were you," said Harkless. A roll of bills was suddenly placed in his hand, which he counted and turned over to the elder Bowler. One of the shell men clutched the editor's sleeve with his dirty hand.

"We ain't done w' youse," he said boarsely. "Don't belief it, not for a minute, see?"

The town marshal opened his eyes briskly and, placing a hand on each of the gamblers, said, "I do hereby arrest your said persons and declare you my prisoners."

The cry arose again louder: "Run 'em out! String 'em up! Hang 'em! Hang 'em!" And a forward rush was made.

"This way, Jim. Quick!" cried Harkless, bending down and jerking one of the gamblers half way up the steps. "Get through the hall to the other side and then run 'em to the lockup. No one will stop you that way. Watts and I will hold this door."

Bardock hustled his prisoners through the doorway, and the crowd pushed up the steps, while Harkless struggled to keep the double doors closed. "Stand back, there!" he shouted. "It's all over. Don't be foolish. The law is good enough for us. Stand back, will you?"

He was shoving vigorously with open hand and elbow, when a compact little group of men suddenly dashed up the steps together, and a heavy stick swung out over their heads. A straw hat with a gray ribbon sailed through the air. The editor's long arms went out swiftly from his body in several directions, the hands not open, but clinched and hard. The next instant he and Mr. Watts stood alone on the steps, and a man with a bleeding, blaspheming mouth dropped his stick and tried to lose himself in the crowd. Mr. Watts was returning something he had not used to his hip pocket.

"Copies of Israel!" exclaimed William Todd ruefully. "It wasn't Eph Watts' pistol. Did you see Mr. Harkless? I was up on them steps when he begun. I don't believe he needs as much takin' care of as we think."

"Wasn't it one of them Crossroads devils that knocked his hat off?" asked Judd Bennett. "I thought I see Bob Skillet run up with a club."

Harkless threw open the doors behind him. The hall was empty. "You may come in now," he said. "This isn't my courthouse."

OPPOSITION PROMISED

Congressman Overstreet May Not Have a Walk-away.

Indianapolis, March 9.—There were rumors here today that Congressman Jesse Overstreet may have opposition for renomination. He has a loyal following here, but there is some ground for the line of talk that is being made against him. Overstreet was nominated and elected first in the old Fifth district. His home was in Johnson county. When Johnson was made a part of the district with Marion county Overstreet was lucky enough to be nominated over a strong Indianapolis man. He was renominated from the district of Johnson and Marion as a Johnson county man, and then Marion was made a separate district. Johnson was placed in the Fourth, a strong Democratic district. Overstreet, however, claimed Indianapolis as his home, although he had never lived here and was nominated two years ago as this district's representative. He now wants another nomination, and while there is no doubt but that Republicans are impressed with the statements that he is not a representative of this county, yet he is going to be nominated.

There was a considerable gathering of prominent Democrats at the Grand hotel today—so considerable, in fact, as to suggest that there was a pre-arranged conference, but this was denied. Among those who were in the lobby were T. Taggart and his side-partner, Joe Fanning, Seventh district chairman; S. M. Ralston of Lebanon, Alonzo Greene Smith of Indianapolis, Chairman O'Brien and Secretary Riley of the state committee, and B. F. Shively of South Bend. These men did have a conference, but it was said that none of them came here for that purpose. The situation in the state was gone over pretty thoroughly, and it may be stated that the Democratic leaders are pretty well satisfied. However, it may also be stated that they acted as if they intend to feel their way very carefully in the coming campaign.

Chairman O'Brien declared today that the Democratic state convention will probably be held about the first of June. It is necessary that the delegates to the national convention be named at least thirty days in advance and the Democrats of Indiana always name their delegates when they nominate the state ticket. Chairman O'Brien met John G. McNutt of Terra Haute and other Democratic leaders here and discussed the legislative reapportionment suits. The transcripts of the Dearborn and Boone county suits were filed some time ago with the supreme court and that of the Ripley county case reached the supreme court today. The Democrats as well as the Republicans are very anxious that the constitutionality of the law shall be determined as quickly as possible so that nominations may be made.

The opponents of J. Frank Hanly for the Republican nomination for governor are still inclined to make a great to do over the convention at Lafayette last Saturday in which the so-called Hanly faction was beaten by the anti-Hanly men in making the nominations for the county ticket. It is being pointed to as an evidence that his own people are not united for him but a prominent Lafayette Republican who was here today explained that while it was true that the Hanly crowd was beaten at the convention Hanly took no part whatever in making the nominations and the question of his candidacy was not at issue at any time. Hanly was enthusiastically endorsed and it is said that he will have a strong home delegation to work for him.

Crew Overlooked Orders.

Birmingham, Ala., March 9.—Six trainmen were killed, three fatally hurt, two injured and a limited express train and a freight partially destroyed by fire comprise the results of a head-on collision on the Alabama Great Southern railway, near Keweenaw, seventeen miles north of Meridian, Miss. It is understood the wreck was caused by the freight train overlooking orders to meet the express.

Going After Paper Trust.

Washington, March 9.—Representative Lilley, of Connecticut, has introduced a resolution directing the secretary of commerce and labor to investigate the cause of the present high price of white paper used for the printing of newspapers and whether it is caused by a trust or combination.

Anti-Spitting Ordinance.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 9.—The Milwaukee common council has passed an anti-spitting ordinance which prohibits expectoration in public buildings, street cars and railroad cars and makes the offense punishable by a fine of $5 or ten days' imprisonment.

Russian Squadron Reported to Have Been Captured by the Japs.

RUMOR NOT CONFIRMED

A Tokio Report Says That Admiral Togo's Fleet Engaged Vladivostok Squadron.

Result Not Announced but it is Believed the Russians Suffered Heavily.

Tokio, March 9.—It is reported that the Japanese fleet engaged the Russian Vladivostok squadron at sea Monday.

VICE ADMIRAL TOGO.

The result of the engagement is not announced but it is believed that the Russian ships were destroyed or captured.

London, March 9.—The far Eastern news published here continues to be most meagre. The dispatch of Vice-roy Alexieff adds practically nothing to the accounts of the Vladivostok bombardment contained in the dispatches of Monday.

There is no further mention of the rumor that the Russian Vladivostok squadron has been engaged and a Willesbarre, Pa., March 9.—The Wyoming valley is today in the grasp of another mighty flood and it is feared the worst is yet to come.

Willesbarre has been completely cut off from the rest of the Wyoming valley and for miles up and down the river the lowlands are completely covered with water and ice. There are but few people in the homes of the flooded sections. The current is raging on all the lowlands in the southern residence section of this city, many houses being completely wrecked by the huge cakes of ice jamming against them.

On the west bank of the river between here and Kingston the water is now up to the first floors and many houses are surrounded with huge piles of ice. The conditions at Plymouth and other west side towns up and down the river resemble a great lake, the water rushing through the streets and surrounding many houses. The market street road between here and Kingston is under six feet of water. The gorges south of this city are holding back the great body of water which is coming down from the upper regions, and unless a break soon occurs a more critical danger point is feared.

Many Driven From Home.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 9.—Conditions in the flood territory today are improved and the indications are there will be no further serious trouble. There is still much suffering among the lowlands in High Spire and Middletown. Many of the residents have lost all their household goods and are still unable to reach their homes on account of high water.

This was the text of the decision handed down by Governor Cummins after a consultation with Attorney General Mullan. Governor Cummins says that the Iowa law will have to be amended in this respect and will send a special message to the legislature recommending such change.

TALKED TOO MUCH

The Other Apostles Shook Their Heads at Apostle Lyman.

QUITE FREE OF SPEECH

Sensational Evidence Given Before Senate Committee by Coming Head of the Mormon Church.

Ingenuous Explanation of How Far "Revelation" Controls Latter Day Saints.

Washington, March 9.—The senate committee on privileges and elections in the investigation of the protests against Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, brought out a variety of testimony, of which the most sensational was that given by Francis M. Lyman, president of the Twelve Apostles of the Mormon church, and the man chosen to be the successor of President Smith. His admissions were similar to those previously made by Mr. Smith pertaining to the church government. He is more free of speech than the president of the church, and his testimony, though not materially differing, caused several of the apostles present to shake their heads at the witness for the purpose of compelling more discretion in answering questions. Mr. Lyman is an angularly built man, his face is covered with a growth of bushy red whiskers and his speech is blunt.

Referring to the evidence adduced the day before that Senator Smoot had to gain the consent of the apostles before running for his high office, Mr. Lyman said the principle of getting consent was that a shepherd could not leave his flock of sheep until his successor came to take charge and therefore it was required that officials must get authority before leaving their official duties in the church.

"Apostles Grant and Teasdale were chosen by 'revelation' to President Snow," said Mr. Lyman, "and a 'revelation' also was given me in relation to these men." He explained that the latter "revelation" came after President Snow had told him the names of the men he wanted chosen to the vacancies. Mr. Lyman was asked what distinction he made between the "revelations" he obeyed and those he did not obey.

"I suppose you mean the laws I have confessed that I have violated in cohabitating with plural wives?" he asked. When told that was what was meant he said: "I trust myself to the mercy of the Lord."

"Have you ever repented to that disobedience," asked Mr. Hoar.

"Not yet."

"Did Senator Smoot know you were living with plural wives?" was asked.

Mr. Lyman answered that Senator Smoot did not know, as he had never met any one of his wives. He said that the people in general in Utah knew, but that he did not think Mr. Smoot had any knowledge of the fact. He said he was so generally known and his reputation was so wide that what was admitted as a fact in relation to him would be accepted by the people as true.

Chairman Burrows insisted on knowing if the people of Utah knew in relation to his life, why Senator Smoot could not know just as well. The witness responded several times that the people must have known but that Senator Smoot did not, whereupon Senator Hoar demanded to know what the witness meant by such answers. The witness then said that Senator Smoot probably knew just as much about the question as the people in general.

"Do you take back what you said then that the people knew and Senator Smoot did not know?" asked Senator Hoar.

"I take that back."

"Don't you think Mr. Apostle that it behooves you to be a little careful about what you say, so that you will not have anything to take back?" asked the Senator severely.

Senator Hoar followed this question by asking the witness if he had received a "revelation" concerning what he was to testify to on the stand and whether such a "revelation" could be responsible for his change of mind in relation to the question asked.

"Are your answers here by order of the Lord? Are they given in your human or inspired capacity?" the senator asked.

"I answer as the spirit of the Lord directs."

"Then it was the spirit of the Lord which directed you to make the answer you just took back and which you said was a mistake?" The witness hesitated and Senator Hoar remarked: "Well, if you can't answer that, I don't blame you."

Chairman Burrows: "After all of this testimony which Senator Smoot has heard do you think he now knows whether you are practicing polygamy?"

"I don't think he knows."

"You think he believes you when you tell him do you not?"

"I believe he believes it and believes me."

After much effort a statement was obtained from the witness that he thought Senator Smoot was acquainted with the general reputation and accepted report that Mr. Lyman was living in polygamous cohabitation with his plural wives.

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

Vengeful Mob at Springfield Only Quelled by Militia.

Springfield, O., March 9.—Following the lynching of the negro Dixon on Monday night, the mob last night took possession of the "levee" district, largely populated by negroes and a square of old buildings in that quarter was burned. The buildings thus destroyed were for the most part negro saloons, dwellings and small rooming houses.

Preceding the firing of the building the mob, at a distance of a hundred feet, shot at the front of the building for a half hour but it is not known whether any of the occupants had remained in the building, and if they did whether any fatalities resulted from the shooting. Five companies of militia had been ordered out by Gov. Herrick upon request of Mayor Bowler, to supplement the two companies at Springfield, and the arrival of the guards about 1 o'clock convinced the lawless element that composed the mob that the authorities were in earnest, and the mob speedily thinned out and finally disappeared.

Intense excitement prevails, which not even the presence of several companies of national guard can allay. This excitement is shared by all the business men and property owners of the city, who fear that some negroes will attempt to avenge the burning of the levee district by firing the downtown business houses or their homes in the residence district. Not a fourth of the business district of the city is under patrol by either militia or police, and it looks as if a close guard would have to be kept for several days to prevent further incendiarism.

A Need for the Militia.

Columbus, O., March 9.—Upon urgent representations from Mayor Bowler, of Springfield, O., that a race war was imminent as a result of the lynching of the negro Dixon, Gov. Herrick last night ordered seven companies of state militia to that city to preserve order. Adj. Gen. Critchfield at once arranged for the mobilization of the troops. Besides the two companies at Springfield, companies at Urbana, Dayton, Xenia, Miami, and Piqua were called out, and these companies are today quartered at Springfield.

DOINGS IN CONGRESS

Senate Discussed Committee Amendments to Army Bill.

Washington, March 9.—The senate spent almost the entire day yesterday discussing the committee amendments to the army bill concerning provisional troops in the Philippines and the consolidation of the adjutant general's office with the record and pension office. The Porto Rican amendment was objected to by Democratic senators as tending to a more pronounced military form of government. Both amendments ultimately were accepted. The bill was amended so as to provide for an increase in the engineer corps. It was still pending when the senate adjourned.

The day in the house was set apart for consideration of claim bills. Thirty-two bills of this character were passed.

THE FARMER FAILS

In health just as does the city-man, and he fails commonly from the same cause, "stomach trouble." The farm is a wholesome place to live; the farmer's life is a healthy life; but no external advantages can overcome the effects of a diseased stomach. When the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased, the food eaten is imperfectly digested and assimilated, and the consequent loss of nutrition results in physical debility.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and enables the perfect assimilation and assimilation of food. It builds up the body with sound flesh and solid muscle.

"I used ten bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and several vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets' a year ago this spring, and have had no trouble with indigestion since," writes Mr. W. T. Thompson, of Townsend, Roadwater Co., Montana. "Words fail to tell how thankful I am for the relief, as I had suffered so much and it seemed that the doctors could do me no good. I got down in weight to one hundred and twenty-five pounds, and was not able to work at all. Now I weigh nearly one hundred and sixty and can do a day's work on the farm. I have recommended your medicine to several, and shall always have a good word to say for Dr. Pierce and his medicines."

WEDNESDAY MARCH 9, 1904.

THIS weather reminds us that spring is not very far in the future.

THE mob spirit manifested itself good and strong at Springfield, Ohio, Tuesday night, the outgrowth of the killing of a policeman and the lynching of his negro assailant.

AN UNCONFIRMED dispatch comes from the far east that Japan came out victorious again in a naval engagement Tuesday. It is believed that the greater part of Russia's Vladivostok fleet was destroyed.

JOHN R. McLEAN, owner of the Cincinnati Enquirer, says that no man has a better right to be a candidate for president than W. R. Hearst. Guess that is so for this is a free country. But the votes will never make this yellow newspaper publisher president.

THE rural mail carriers, who are unwilling to give up their right to act as agents for large city department stores, newspapers, etc., and accept a straight salary, much higher than they are now getting, are standing in their own light. They will never get the salary they deserve until they give Uncle Sam's business their full time while on their routes.

JOHN REDDINGER, one of the night police, is a democratic candidate for city marshal. Like Carl Wood he is running on his record as a public official. Wood is running on his record as county attorney while Reddinger will run on his record as policeman during this "reform" administration. But in both cases "modesty" will prevent them from giving the whole record while out campaigning for votes.

A CLEAN city promotes healthfulness. Dirty streets and alleys and fifty back yards invites disease and contagion. Cleanliness not only adds to appearances but it promotes sanitary conditions. Everybody should desire a clean and healthful city twelve months in the year. Some cleaning up is needed right now and this should be done without delay. Do not wait until the warm days of spring before beginning this important work.

DIED.

HARVEY.—Olivena Harvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Harvey, died at Columbus Monday night. The remains were taken to Surprise Wednesday morning on the railroad and from there to the Sutherland cemetery south of Waymansville for burial.

WILSON.—Mrs. Clyde Wilson, of Louisville, died at the home of her father, Samuel Houghland, at Uniontown, Tuesday night. She had been sick for some time. Leaves a husband and three children. Funeral at Uniontown Thursday conducted by Rev. I. C. Overman.

Owing to the illness of Captain Coles, James Gillespie's leading attorney, his trial at Rising Sun has been postponed until the May term of court. This is not as Gillespie desired as he claims that he wants a trial now. Congressman Griffith made an effort to have the indictments quashed but was overruled by Judge Downey.

Star Subscribers' Contest.

Miss Lucile Russell, who resides on Rural Route No. 1 out of Crothersville, is a candidate in the Indianapolis Star's contest for the honor of christening the new steam ship, Indianapolis, and asks for the votes of the Star's Jackson county readers. A coupon will appear in the Star every day until March 21. These are to be filled out and sent in. Miss Russell is a native of Jackson county and will appreciate any support given her in this contest.

Over-Ruled Demurrer.

In the case of John R. Tindler vs. James W. Lewis for possession of the county clerk's office Judge Buskirk today over-ruled the demurrer to complaint in a lengthy written opinion. What the next step will be has not been determined yet.

The gospel meetings now in progress at the Presbyterian church increases in interest and attendance every evening. Postal Card Too Small

Mrs. A. T. Neal, of Maryville, Mo., Says:

"A postal card is too small to begin my praise of your wonderful preparation, Paracamp. My first experience with Paracamp was about one year ago; my little girl was very badly burned with hot grease. One of my kind neighbors recommended Paracamp and gave me what she had on hand, as we live in the country and could not immediately get it from town. The first application gave relief. We used about three bottles and the burns were healed up nicely, although they were very bad burns. My little girl was playing and fell knocking the grease in her lap; she was burned on both legs from the knees almost to her hips, and in removing her clothing a great deal of the skin came off, leaving her legs perfectly raw. I have used Paracamp for a great many things since then, and never like to be without it in my house. I have quite a family and find it a great task to write, but I hope my letter will reach you in time, as I am a great friend of Paracamp. I could tell you more of its good works but guess this will be enough for this time. I am always willing to sound the praise of a valuable remedy."

This letter should convince all mothers of the necessity for keeping in their homes a bottle of Paracamp. This wonderful remedy is needed almost every day in the year. It not only relieves pain quickly but it heals all manner of wounds without leaving ugly scars. Get a bottle of Paracamp today, and if it fails to do what we claim for it and if you don't find it is the most useful remedy you have ever had in your home, we will refund your money. All good druggists sell it in 25 cent, 50 cent, and $1.00 bottles. The Paracamp Company, Louisville, Ky., U. S. A.

Still Investigating.
The grand jury is still investigating the murder of Miss Schafer. McDonald who has been under arrest has not been indicted by the grand jury yet and may not be at all, though Detective Reed still says he is guilty. If he should not be indicted the spectacular work of Detective Reed will result in a fizzle. Few people have believed McDonald guilty and better evidence must be produced than has been made public to change the public mind. If he should be indicted he will demand an immediate trial. That the prosecution apparently does not want to grant.

Mrs. Laura S. Webb,

Vice-President of Women's Democratic Clubs of Northern Ohio.

THERE ARE MANY sickly women between the ages of 45 and 55, but there are very few invalids over 55 and 60 years of age. The change of life coming to a woman near her forty-fourth year, either makes her an invalid or gives her a new lease on life. Those who meet this change in ill health seldom live ten years afterward, while a woman who lays aside the active duties of womanhood in health seldom fails to live on in happiness, years after she has passed 60. This is truly a critical time.

Mrs. Laura S. Webb, of Toledo, Ohio, recognizes the change of life as a dangerous period and she also has faith in Wine of Cardui. She writes:

"As I had always been troubled more or less at the menstrual period, I dreaded

Mrs. Laura S. Webb.

the change of life which was fast approaching. While visiting with a friend I noticed that she was taking your Wine of Cardui, and she was so enthusiastic about it that I decided to try a bottle. I experienced some relief the first month, so I kept on taking it for three months and now I menstruate with no pain and I shall take it off and on now until I have passed the climax. I do not dread it now, as I am sure that your Wine of Cardui will be of great benefit at this time."

Wine of Cardui is the remedy to re-inforce a woman against the shock that comes with the change of life. It re-establishes healthy functions after years of suffering. In doing this it has saved thousands of sufferers just in time. Do not wait until suffering is upon you. Thorough preparations should be made in advance. Begin the Wine of Cardui treatment today.

AS OLD AS THE PYRAMIDS

That blood poison existed among the ancients has been proven beyond question. It has been traced back thousands of years, and is as old as the Pyramids. This blighting curse has been handed down from nation to nation and from individual to individual till it has spread to all parts of the world.

Contagious Blood poison, as it is called in modern times, begins with a small sore or ulcer through which the virus enters the blood. This is followed by inflammation and swelling of the glands of the throat becomes ulcerated, and as the disease takes a deeper hold and the blood becomes more thoroughly infected, the hair and eyebrows drop out, the skin is spotted with copper-colored blotches, the bones and muscles ache, and it seems to the victim of this monster scourge there is not a sound spot in the whole body.

The horror of this awful disease can never be told. The one who contracts it suffers in body and mind, and if the poison is not eradicated transmits the taint to his children, and Contagious Blood Poison thus becomes responsible for many of the ills of childhood—Skin Eruptions, Catarrhal Troubles, Sore Eyes, Scalp Disease, White Swelling, Scrofula and others just as bad. S. S. S., the great vegetable blood purifier and tonic, has long been recognized as a radical and safe cure for Contagious Blood Poison. It counteracts the deadly virus and cleanses and purifies the diseased blood, and under its tonic effects the general health improves and soon all signs of blood poison are gone.

The strong mineral remedies, Mercury and Potash, which are so often prescribed for the disease, dry up the sores, skin eruptions and all external signs, but leave the stomach and digestion ruined and the system in such condition that the disease usually returns in worse form than ever.

S. S. S. is guaranteed a purely vegetable remedy. $1.00 is offered for proof that it contains a single mineral ingredient. If you have blood poison write for our special book, describing the different stages and giving all the symptoms, with directions for treating one's self at home. Our physicians will furnish any information or advice wanted free of charge.

and it is MUCH CHEAPER. There are several different springs, having different curative properties.

For Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bowel troubles and their attendant nervous affections, these waters have produced wonderful results. They allay gastric irritation, render soluble in the body substances that are harmful, and thus free the body of them. Their action on the kidneys and bowels, as well as on the skin, corrects the acidities due to various kinds of fermentation in the body.

An excellent adjunct to these waters is the good air and the opportunity for exercise in the open.

A WARM WELCOME

Awaited Members of Editorial Association at Bloomington.

INTERESTING MEETING

Among the Forms of Entertainment Provided was a Mock National Political Convention.

Several State Candidates Were Present to Give Realism to This Feature.

Bloomington, Ind., March 9.—The semi-annual meeting of the Southern Indiana Press association convened in this city today. The citizens of Bloomington had arranged in advance to give the visiting editors and their wives a hearty welcome, and abundant entertainment is being offered. All indications point to one of the best meetings in the history of the association.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon the visitors were given a drive over the city, ending at the University buildings. An hour was then devoted to the preliminary business of the association and appointment of committees. At 3 o'clock the editors attended a mock Democratic national convention, conducted by students of the University. Several candidates for state offices were present and gave a touch of realism to the convention. At 7:30 tonight the visitors will be given a reception by the citizens of Bloomington, which will be followed by the annual editorial banquet. Tomorrow morning the regular business meeting of the association will be held. Following is the program:

Advertising Rates—S. B. Boyd, Washington Democrat.

Business in the Newspaper Office—Walter Bradfute, Bloomington Telephone.

Competition of City Papers on Rural Routes—A. M. Willoughby, Greensburg Review.

The Party Newspaper and Politics—Thos. J. Brooks, Bedford Mail.

The Newspaper and Labor Unions—R. E. Purcell, Vincennes Sun.

Reports of Committees.

Election of Officers.

In the afternoon the editors will make a visit by special train to the stone quarries, returning in time to take the afternoon trains for home.

HELD UP MAIL CARRIER

Three Young Men at Linton in Trouble With Uncle Sam.

Linton, Ind., March 9.—Three young men, all under twenty-one years old, giving their names as Charles Bailey, Enoch Taggett and Scott Channey and their homes as Cambridge, O., attempted to rob Frank Newkirk, a mail carrier. Newkirk is the son of Milburn Newkirk, postmaster of this place, and he, in company with Ob Meyers and Clarence Cooper, was taking a sack of mail to a train on the Southern Indiana railroad. When about half a block from the railroad station they were attacked by the three young men and a lively scuffle followed. While Newkirk and Meyers were wrestling with their assailants, Clarence Cooper, fifteen years old, seized the mail bag and ran with it to a lively stable nearby, where he gave the alarm.

Rollo Hannun and Patrolman Charles Adkins joined in the pursuit of the three men, and after a long chase they were captured and the United States marshal was notified.

Appealed to Higher Court.

Indianapolis, March 9.—The question whether one who is running a saloon for a man that obtained a saloon license and afterward moved to another county is guilty of selling intoxicating liquor without a license is presented by an appeal filed in the supreme court. Charles J. Dudley, of Wabash, Ind., was fined for selling liquor under a license issued to Warren Morrow, the latter having moved to Peru, Ind., at the time the sale was made. The trial court held that under the statute requiring a saloon keeper to be a resident of the county he forfeited his license by moving to another county.

A Fore-Handed Man.

Colfax, March 9.—Edward Ohl, who lives near Mulberry, has his last resting place ready for use in Fairhaven cemetery. Some time ago he bought a handsome stone sarcophagus and had it taken to his home. Later he decided to have his grave dug and the sarcophagus placed in position. He superintended the work. The box was placed in the grave, the lid was put on and the grave filled with earth. Mr. Ohl is one of the substantial citizens of the county and is in excellent health.

Incendiaries Continue Active.

Evansville, Ind., March 9.—The large barn of John Goodman, near Springfield, Posey county, burned last night. The loss is placed at $2,500. During the last year there have been about seventy-five barns destroyed by fire in Posey county, and in each case the fire was of incendiary origin. Detectives have been employed several times to run down the men responsible for the fires, but to no avail.

Good Spirits. Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State could not remedy a bad liver or the hundred-and-one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 25c; regular bottles, 75c. W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Gillespie Case Goes Over.

Rising Sun, Ind., March 9.—Judge Downey has sustained the demurrer by the state to the plea in abatement filed by the defense in the Gillespie murder case, throwing the plea out of court. This gives the state the first victory. The motion by the defense to quash the indictment was also overruled. Congressman Griffith then filed a motion for a continuance until the next term of court, on account of the serious illness of Capt. J. B. Coles, chief counsel for the defense. This motion was sustained by the court. The state offered no objection and the trial was continued until May 2.

Waters are Rising. Vincennes, Ind., March 9.—Rains have caused the Wabash river to rise rapidly and the stream at this point is fifteen feet above low water mark.
